

Luca Mundaca

Singer, songwriter, and guitarist Luca Mundaca is one of the great Brazilian artists who have gained international acclaim. Luca is from a small town just south of Sao Paulo. From her early teens on, she has been fine tuning her musical gifts. Early on she quickly mastered the stand-ard Bossa Nova repertoire and she became adept at interpreting the work of the masters.

With the recent release of her debut CD "Day by Day" it is clear that Luca Mundaca is a musical artist in her prime. A formidable composer and arranger, the new CD features all original compositions. Shortly after releasing the CD an unsolicited copy was sent to Putumayo records in New York City. So impressed were the Putumayo people they immediately added her to their brand new "Brazilian Lounge" CD. She is featured alongside several major Brazilian artists on that CD including Bebel Gilberto, Paula Morlenbaum, and Marcos Valle. The Putumayo CD features her original composition "Ha Dias".

Now splitting her time between Brazil and the US, Luca Mundaca is truly a citizen of the world.

"Luca Mundaca is a gifted young singer and songwriter. Luca's music is a glorious blend of her native Brazil with a touch of downtown New York. She mines the deep melodic roots of her country's heritage, creating musical gems that she polishes with the lightest of touches. A talent to watch."

"Luca Mundaca is a singer and songwriter whose work I have been aware of since she arrived in NYC. Her abilities are unlimited; she has a stunning voice of great intimacy and emotion, and her songwriting is first rate. It is rare to find in an artist both the capacity to write brilliant melodies & profound lyrics, and to then perform them at such a high level of musicianship. She simply has it all."
